

TENCHILLER 2017 IN THE LOGBOOKS

32 area divers started off 2017 on the right “fin” by participating in our 3rd Annual New Year’s Day dive, the TenChiller! Thanks to all who joined us!

PADI Master Scuba Diver Did you make a new year’s resolution to dive more? Working to become a PADI Master Diver is a tangible way to achieve that goal! This is the highest recreational certification in the scuba world. In order to earn PADI Master Diver, you need Advanced Open Water and Rescue Diver, as well as five PADI specialty classes of your choosing. These specialties can include Deep Diver, Night Diver, Enriched Air, Equipment Specialist, Boat Diver, Navigation, and Search and Recover. We offer all of these courses right here at Gene’s Aqua Pro throughout the year. Get started now and you’ll be a PADI Master Scuba Diver in no time!

Scubapro Service In need of a Scubapro Technician? Winter is the time to get your gear serviced so you don’t miss a single dive when the weather turns warm again.

Bravo, Bonne Terre We had a great time on our adventure to Bonne Terre Mine last month. If you missed out on the trip, have no fear! We’ll be headed back in December 2017.

See you underwater! -John

GEAR UP FOR 2017

By popular demand, I’ll be teaching another Equipment Specialist class on February 18 from 9am-3pm. The $95 price includes a hot dog lunch and all the Dr. Pepper you can drink for the day. This course is helpful to all and highly recommended for anyone working towards Dive Master. It can also count as a specialty for PADI Master Scuba Diver.
